Wrongtime

Starflyer 59

I can tell that something's gone
That something feels like it should be here
Something stopped, and I missed it
And I can't get it back no moreI can tell by this feeling
That I've been here before
Like something moved, and I missed it
And it won't come back no moreYour death is on my list
The many things that I'd like to fix
But I can't go back, can't go home
I can't see you anymore
But I'm not well
Is that you
Pressing on my door?
You know I miss you, I miss you
I love you, wrongtimeI still see you in the night
When all the lights are off
You glow in the dark
I still see you in the night
When all the lights are off
You glow in the darkWhen all the lights are off
You glow in the dark
