Now

Joywave

(Now)

Last night I killed a ghost that was following me
Its spooky fingers distributed around the murder scene
And there was nothing beautiful inside the shell
Like it had seemed

And everything was white
Yeah everything was white
Everything was white

And now, that the deed is done, we can all go home
And now that the feeling's gone, we can grab our coats
Now that my health returns as your heart explodes
Into tiny pieces that don't matter

I committed the crime around 10:15
You didn't notice cause your eyes were glazed and diseased
And with the music playing loud it muffled out
The sound of the screams

And everything was right
Yeah everything was right
Everything felt right

Now, that the deed is done, we can all go home
And now that the feeling's gone, we can grab our coats
And now that my health returns as your heart explodes
Into tiny pieces that don't matter

Now that the deed is done
Now that my health is gone

Now that my health returns as your heart explodes
Into tiny pieces that don't matter [x2]

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/