

One Way to Kill a Werewolf

Modern Day Escape

Your hands they are on my throat
Squeezing so tight enough to choke
Choke me out, I'm fading out
In the cages I will lay, waiting here until my day
You set me free, you set me free
For I will wait
Biting and holding my tongue
And I will wait
If I told you I'd have to kill you
Our love for war will never die
In this battlefield there's only one way to end our lives
This silver bullet around my neck
I'll carve that smile from your face
And then you'll know how it tastes
All the mistakes you have made
When your mouth hits my blade
And now I'll sleep tonight
Knowing your blood's in my veins
Ripping the flesh from
And tonight we rise up
And now you know our secret
If I told you I'd have to kill you
Our love for war will never die
In this battlefield there's only one way to end our lives
Silver bullet around my
In this battlefield there's only one way to end our lives
Silver bullet around my, around my neck
Half breeds, crawling the streets
Dripping blood from their teeth
Let's go
The stars collide and I know I will never see my love again
So I'll bless this room with holy water and cheap thrills too
What if I drag this knife across his throat to wear his skin too?
So far away, now I'll never get to see my love again
