Who Goes First?

Ned's Atomic Dustbin

She'll study while you fidget and you squirm
Recite the final lesson of the final summer term
But no amount of lessons could have made you learnIf you're lonely you'll get lazy
If you're lazy you'll get lonely
It's all too hard to take what you deserveYou'll turn against her, you will turn
You'll turn against her, you will turn
You'll turn against her, you will turnShe'll listen while you try to kill the sound
Of each and every sigh you make, it's heads down
But no amount of days and hours could turn this thing aroundYou were lonely, you got lazy
You were lazy, you got lonely
It's all too hard to [Incomprehensible] what you foundYou'll turn against her, you will turn
You'll turn against her, you will turn
You'll turn against her, you will turnYou'll turn against her, you will turn
You'll turn against her, you will turn
You'll turn against her, you will turnShe'll study while you fidget and you squirm
Recite the final lesson of the final summer term
But no amount of lessons could have made you learnIf you're lazy you'll get lonely
If you're lonely you'll get lazy
It's all too hard to take what you deserveYou'll turn against her
Turn against her, you will turn
