

The Archers' Bows Are Broken

Brand New

Who do you carry the torch for, my young man?
Do you believe in anything?
Do you carry it around just to burn things down? Meet me tonight on the turnpike, my darling cause we believe in everything
If we sweat all these debts then we're sure to drown
So we strap ourselves into this engine now We look hard and we found a way into the backseat. What did you learn tonight?
you're shouting so loud you barely enjoy this broken thing
you're a voice that never sings, is what I say
You were freezing over hell
You were bringing on the end, you do so well
You can only blame yourself, it's what I say All that you've got is to ignore the things I was sorry and sweep me under the rug
And a beating with a book everyone the book tells you to love
There is an ember in the heart of the kiln
And its burning hot with love Burning out my sins until there's nothing but dust holding me with care into your cigarette Cause the God I believe in worked on a campaign trail What did you learn tonight?
you're shouting so loud you barely enjoy this broken thing
you're a voice that never sings, is what I say
You were freezing over hell
You were bringing on the end, you do so well
You can only blame yourself, it's what I say Who do you carry the torch for, my young man?
Do you believe in anything?
Do you carry it around just to burn things the ground? What did you learn tonight?
you're shouting so loud you barely enjoy this broken thing
you're a voice that never sings, is what I say
You were freezing over hell
You were bringing on the end, you do so well
You can only blame yourself, it's what I say Feels like we could escape this I might throw it away for fear of the silver sun
If you try running a maze of your lies It's too hard to save you've thrown out everyone

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>