Train (Album Version)

Leo Sayer

Running through my life
Like a river, like a song
Train keeps pushing me
Right back to the place where I belong...Back along the tracks
Fly a million years
Right across my path
Train moves on ringing in my ears...Come on board
Come on boardTrain, oh train, take me back, again
I remember, I remember, take me back
Train, oh train, the journey ends and starts again
I remember, I remember, I rememberI`ve been up all night trying to get this down
Now I`m hallucinating
Staring at the wall look what I`m creating...Look at the clock I`m twelve hours old
So many more remain
Way up ahead I know I see a train...Come on board
Come on boardTrain, oh train, all those memories, all over again
I remember, I remember, take me back
Train, oh train, the journey ends and starts again
I remember, I remember, I rememberWaited on the station all day
Just to see a glimpse of the morning train
Just to see the wheels turning round
Blowing up steam,
See what I mean,
You see what I mean...
