

Why Walk on Water When We've Got Boats

A Day to Remember

Watch what you say on that stand. You're running in circles. I know more than you think, and your words are empty. Of all the heavenly hosts! This will all make sense when the records gold. What's a few more units for you soul?

You're wasting my time, while they're wasting away. You'll never, you'll never save me. You've dropped every line but they don't mean a thing. You'll never, you'll never save me.

You live your life in the saddest way I've ever seen. You are the reason I don't believe.

I'm not denying the worth in things unseen and this isn't a part of the next big thing. I'm just trying to show them all that you are. You are nothing.
