

Fiction Friction

Unwound

it's a shattered day all around it's a shattered day in our town,
seems wrong,
it's a saturday all the time
it's a saturday once again, nice time.

it's another day down the drain
it's another day just the same,
so what,
it's a stupid day on this day
it's a stupid day everyday,
good bye

you'd make great fiction, you make great friction.
you'd make great fiction, you make great friction.
so it's history, you can count me out, it's not apathy, it's incomplete

you'd make great fiction, you make great friction.
you'd make great fiction, you make great friction.

flying in the mainstream, second third time not a dream, and a crown don't mean a thing, when it's made of pain.

you'd make great fiction, you make great friction.
you'd make great fiction, you make great friction.

i'm not the king of pain, put it down the drain, shame it's not obvious, i'm not a prodigy.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>