Must Be Nice

Lyfe Jennings

Must be nice

Having someone who understands the life you live

Must be nice

Having someone who's slow to take and quick to giveMust be nice

Having someone who sticks around when the rough times get thick

Someone who's smile is bright enough

To make the projects feel like a mansionMust be nice

Having someone who loves you despite your faults

Must be nice

Having someone who talks the talk but also walks the walkMust be nice

Having someone who understands that a thug has feelings too

Someone who loves you for sho'

You just remember to never let 'em goEven when your hustling days are gone

She'll be by your side still holding on

Even when those 20's stop spinning

And all those gold-digging women disappear, she'll still be hereMust be nice

Having someone you can come home to from a long day of work

Must be nice

Having someone you don't have to show they know exactly where it hurtsMust be nice

Having someone who trusts you despite what they've heard

Someone as mighty as a lion but still as gentle as a bluebirdMust be nice

Having someone you don't have to tell you don't want to be alone

Must be nice

Having someone you can grow old with until God calls y'all homeMust be nice

Having someone who understands that a thug has feelings too

Someone who loves you for sho'

You never let 'em goEven when your hustling days are gone

She'll be by your side still holding on

Even when those 20's stop spinning

And all those gold-digging women disappear, she'll still be hereEven when your hustling days are gone

She'll be by your side still holding on

And even when those 20's stop spinning

And all those gold-digging women disappear, she'll still be here Even when your hustling days are gone

She'll be by your side still holding on

And even when those 20's stop spinning

And all those gold-digging women disappear, she'll still be here

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/