

Amnesia

Tristania

Were words too vague
Disarmed and desperate
But after all your call
Was inflammable So you slip into the fire
I am watching it transpire Wholehearted help
Distressed and desolate
So changed and frail
Its all unmistakable Words passing through
The unforgivable
Eyes cannot hide the pain
And she still yearns
Let go Breaking out and breaking down
The last thing I remember
Soak the embers with your fuel
Your fright is your defender Faking your tomorrow
Life is good for the pretender
Our precious memories
Are shattered and dismembered We will wear the lies we share
Forfeit future, truth or dare So you slipped into the fire
I was watching it transpire
