Dry Spell

Pepper

Stealin' what's been stolen
And whats given, man I don't get for free
Couldn't find a reason but put the blame on me
Taking water while the well is dry
And the devil's always smiling when you pass byDrifting on my shattered piece of sorry stubbornness
One more mistake but I really need that risk
I notice roots and the rhythm remain
But they never like they seem
And now the stories lost its themeRight back where I first started from
They all listen when I play this rhythm
Break it off when it's given to me
Don't worry if it's over I'll just wait patientlyBig up the lovin' that hold me down
Them no try and come after me in this underground
Whom God bless let no man curse
The first will be the last and the last will be the firstSo I sloped into the room
Playing my guitar in my worn out shoes
I want to hear this sound just like a stage show I'd know
Where they all lose control and it never lets you goRight back where I first started from
Them all listen when I play this rhythm
Break it off when it's given to me
Don't worry if it's over I'll just wait patientlyBig up the lovin' that hold me down
Them no try and come after me in this underground
Whom God bless let no man curse
The first will be the last and the last will be the firstRight back where I first started from
Them all listen when I play this rhythm
Break it off when it's given to me
Don't worry if it's over I'll just wait patientlyBig up the lovin' that hold me down
Them no try and come after me in this underground
Whom God bless let no man curse
The first will be the last and the last will be the firstThe first will be the last and the last will be the first
The first will be the last and the last will be the first, no
The first will be the last and the last will be the first
The first will be the last and the last will be the first
Who is the firstThe first will be the last and the last will be the first
Tell me who is the first
The first will be the last and the last will be the first
Who is the first
The first will be the last and the last will be the first
