Treachery

Thy Majestie

I'm the servant of the crown, now and forever
No evil's bigger than the pain, now I feel
I damn my heart for few promises forever
I keep on fighting, I make me strong
My lie has me in its power and chains up my soul
Because I only dream, I deserve to diePlease forgive me, ohh, my king, for secrets in my heart
It's going against my nature, I'm going against my will
For few lands I betrayed, I will burn in hell foreverOhh, my king, my treachery you will never forget
In my eyes there is no light anymore
Now I beg your mercy
I live for loyaltyI'm the servant of the crown, now and forever
No evil's bigger than the pain, now I feel
I damn my heart for few promises forever
Please forgive me, ohh, my king, for secrets in my heart
It's going against my nature, I'm going against my will
For few lands I betrayed, I will burn in hell foreverOhh, my king, my treachery you will never forget
In my eyes there is no light anymore
I shall never come back to this reign again
'Cause the treachery is pain for meHis promises of glory damned my soul in that night
And now my holy steel cannot fight
To hide my treachery and my despair anymoreAnd now my holy steel cannot fight
To hide my treachery and my despair anymore
