Bedtime Stories

The Hush Now

Shadows fall
In the light that breaks
Across the floor
Paralyzed
Hear you hesitate
Behind the doorYou suddenly found your faith
Something to take my place
And fill you up again when you were feeling low
Did you ever really change
Still you never laid me down
Before I wake
You kept it all for yourselfWould they dance
Fairy Kings and Queens
Through moon drop nights
Weaving dreams
Bringing fear to you
Now you bring meYou suddenly found your faith
Something to take my place
And fill you up again when you were feeling low
Did you ever really change
Still you never laid me down
Before I wake and prayed the lord my soul to take
You never laid me down
Before I wake
You kept it all for yourselfyou never triedSo far you found yourself in another
You never bothered to believe in yourself
