Chrome Dome

Channel Zero

Sweet lips often spoke to me
Do you know how people fly ?
From that day forth something changed
Don't ask me how it was arranged
My family prayed for heaven's sake
Too late, drowning in a lake
At the edge of madness you can meet me thereOur house stands open for everyone, all night all day
Chrome dome is what they call it
You can get in but never get away, until it's over for youThings seem so far and lost
Nothing holds me from my glory
They said I'd never understand
The only thing that keeps me warm
My leather jacket in my closet
I don't need it anymoreOur house stands open for everyone, all night all day
Chrome dome is what they call it
You can get in but never get away, until it's over for youPlease understand, don't wanna lead a vegetable life
Let me go, I'm the man with human wings
You'll see, one day I'll fly, and when I do I'll kiss the sky
You'll see, one day I'll die, and when I do and when I die, and when I go
I wanna be cremated
So my soul can breathe the air, can stop living in despairFaces I vaguely recognize Complete strangers observe me
Now their doctors enter my privacy
They grab my arm and push me down
I keep on trying, things can't go wrong now
I keep on trying, sweet sweet dreamsThrough the windowpane
I watch the birds play
I'd like to join them but my wings are weak
Living in a mad worldOur house stands open for everyone, all night all day
Chrome dome is what they call it
You can get in but never get away, until it's over for you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/