

G.B.A.

Xavier Rudd

I know, i see, i feel and yes i fear it everyday These ego's there minds and games
With all their power could end our days
Still the sun it shines and the moon it sinks with grace It's such a shame that all this shit exists Here on this earth, this magical place I'm doing fine Yes you have the funds and size and power to make some change
What you have will break their smiles so many people so many ways each Child who walks their line should be free to run their race it's such a shame that all this shit exists here on this earth, this magical place I'm doing fine
