On A Wire

Funeral For A Friend

I'm on fire, close to the water
And I'll be saved again
Staring at the ocean, over and over
Will I ever see them again?
Why'd they leave so soon?
Find a way to bring me home
I don't wanna be alone again, again
Find a ship to take me home
I don't wanna be alone again
Not again, not again, not again, not again
I'm on a wire, over the border
And I'll be safe again
Living on an island, over and over
I don't think I'll see them again
Why'd they leave so soon?
Find a way to bring me home

I don't wanna be alone again
Not again, not again, not again, not again
As the daylight fades
And I am a broken man, all alone
As the daylight fades
And I'm just a broken man
All alone, with no home
Find a ship to take me home
I don't wanna be alone again
Not again, not again, not again, not again
Find a ship to take me home
I don't wanna be alone again
Not again, not again, not again, not again
You are my island
All alone in your silence
