

Graffiti Soul

Kitten

You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
Footsteps walking in again
Name checks begin again
Stand here, let's soak it in again
The white lines and the inner pain
When I'm sorting out the wars
And breaking out the holes
That lead to me to the scars
Written on the wall
There's nothing I'd change
In my graffiti soul
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
Footsteps walking in again
The white lines stenciled in again
And when I'm sorting out the wars
And breaking out the holes
That lead me to the scars
They've written on the wall
There's nothing I'd change
In my graffiti soul
And when I am rushing in my head
Cruising in control
Admiring the spread
Beyond the neon sprawl
There's nothing I'd change
In my graffiti soul
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
And when I'm sorting out the wars
And breaking out the holes
That lead me to the scars
Written on the wall

There's nothing I'd change
In my graffiti soul
When I am rushing in my head
Cruising in control
Admiring the spread
Beyond the neon sprawl
In my graffiti soul
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
You bring me lightening
