

Educated Guess

Ani DiFranco

Looks like my crazy family
Is down one crazy daughter 'cause
I'm shipwrecked in a desert that
Once was underwater just looking for a swift turn of phrase
Some colors to fly
As I float by
In the parade Plus I dream in skin scented sentences
Of a stronger faster fiercer you
And to each noun, verb and predicate
I dedicate a vivid hue But you ain't done too well
Getting past your permanent pastel
Have you now?
Yes, the desert seemed so promising
And then it paled somehow So school is in session
Get your chin off your desk
Now pick up your pencil
And turn over your test Use your education
And take an educated guess
About me I've got a slot at eye level like
A speakeasy door
And I know you know the password
'Cause I've seen you here before And I've got something sweet for you
And I don't care if it is more than you deserve
I've got a lot of love and a lot of nerve
So watch me while I take this curve Yes school is in session
Get your chin off your desk
Now pick up your pencil
And turn over your test Use your education
And take an educated guess
About me Plus I have this whole new family
And I'm in love with each of them
And I'm on this list called lucky
Whenever I'm in reach of them And I'm learning how to say
That I'd be happy either way
With your love I'm calling on the stars above School is in session
Get your chin off your desk
Now pick up your pencil
Turn over your test Use your education
And take an educated guess
