Everyday Everything

16Volt

I walk around looking down almost everyday And look at me less the pain left along the way Less the pride left aside like a yesterday Useless me useless me like a runawaySay you fight me everyday All your might just burns away
All your hate becomes a tool Blame yourself for what i doUse of me use of me use of everything
like a tired stain Listen good listen good so its understood Cant forgive cant forgive all the things you didSay you fight me everyday
All your might just burns away
All your hate becomes a tool Blame yourself for what i doI am your everyday everything(x4)why(x4)Its in your face as your sentences swim I see the demons underneath your skin I see the teeth in the cracking of your smile I see the black of your eyes in denial I see the same thing again and again I see the aftermath of letting you in I see your evil come without a restraint
I see the nightmares of being awake /((You try and beat me down every fu#%ing day Ive found the way to erase the building pain

I come to get you with revenge on my breath
the lesson of death
I come to get you with the scars and the blood
I come to get you with the intention of god(last line x3))/Say you fight me everyday
Blame yourself for what i do Say you fight me everyday
