Ego

Darren Hayes

I have been contemplating
Letting go of you ego
Thought I'd let you know
You're getting old
It was so irritating saving face
When I fell from grace
Thought you'd won a race
Without a trace
But you stayed
But you remained
But you..
It's always about you
I have been quietly edging away
To keep the flames at bay
Make this puppy stay
To limit my use of personal
Pro-nouns are the death of me
See I just said me
You're an endless see

The vanity is all for you babe
For you babe
For you..
It's always about you
I have been silently taking offense
And at great expense
As my feeling dent
I'm licking my scratches
It serves no purpose
Doesn't gratify
And you're dissatisfied
And though you're belly's full
There's always more room for you babe
For you babe
For you..
It's always about you
No.. no.. don't.. don't.. oh..
