

Happy

Hilary Duff

I understand why you're looking for tears in my eyes
Trust me they were there but now the well has run dry I was in so deep I couldn't get out
I sat on feelings that I buried deep down
I knew there'd come a day when our paths would cross
And I'm glad it's today 'cause now I am strong I'm happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I'd be in my bed crying
But I'm happy and I know that makes you sad
After all the things you put me through, I'm finally getting over you I'm happy, I'm happy There's a reason why we met, I'm glad that we did
But when we broke up, I got back a part of me I really missed
Not saying that you brought me down all the time
There are moments I lived without light on my side I'm happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I'd be in my bed crying
But I'm happy and I know that makes you mad
After all the things you put me through, I'm finally getting over you All the bitterness has passed
And I only wish you
Someone who
Could do what I can't I'm happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I'd be in my bed crying
But I'm happy and I know that makes you mad
After all the things you put me through, I'm finally getting over you I'm happy and I can thank myself
If it were up to you I'd be in my bed crying
But I'm happy and I know that makes you sad
After all the things you put me through, I'm finally getting over you
