A Prayer for Every Year

Plus One

Do You remember me?
Long ago, on bended knee
I prayed to You
With childhood fantasyWell, Im all grown up now
Can You still help somehow?
Im not a child
But my heart still can dreamPlease hear my prayer tonight
And help me do whats right
Not for myself
But for a world in needNo more lives torn apart
That wars would never start
And time would heal all heartsAnd every man would have a friend
And right would always win
And love would never end
This is my prayer for every yearMay kindness rule our lives
Not just the strong survive
Sweet tears for all
A thousand years gone byThis is the world I pray
We will share someday
Let me begin
By reaching out my handNo more lives torn apart
That wars would never start
And time would heal all heartsEvery man would have a friend
And right would always win
And love would never end
This is my prayer for every yearWhat is this illusion called
The innocence of youth
Maybe only in their blind belief
Will we ever find the truthNo more lives torn apart
That wars would never start
And time would heal all heartsAnd every man would have a friend
And right would always win
And love would never endThis is my prayer for every year
This is the prayer, I hope You hear
This is my prayer for every year
