Undesired

Ferlin Husky

Oh blue is my life by day by night nobody cares if I live or die
Is a man not a man when he ends it all when he take his own before hearing the call
If a coward I'd be to yeld to misery no mercy will I ask when I sip from the cask
I've been titled at last undesired
Can't death be as bad as the heartaches I've had will the death take away all the pain All the pain from one undesiredMy lover's so fair as seas not do care my heart if full of grief and despair
Chance I fancy has rubbed me of lust she remain but I know or I feel that I must
If a coward I'd be to yeld to misery...
Undesired undesired
