All The World Tonight

Graham Colton Band

All of the innocence has gone, Away
Son, someday, you'll be a man
Son, someday you'll understand
All of the air I breathe has after taste
Cause I am looking off, in the distance
Beyond the neon lights
And I can see all
All the memories are locked away
All the world tonight
Soon someday you'll take them down
All this waiting for my big parade
Cause I am looking off, in the distance
Soon someday its coming to town
Beyond the neon lights
And I can see all
The stars are out tonight
Of my good friends
But I'm missing all
And I can see all
All the world tonight
I promised I would write
Cause I'm looking off, in the distance
Beyond the neon lights
The stars are out tonight
And I missing all of my good friends
And I can see all
And I can see all
I promised I would write
The moments passing by
And all the billboard signs
Yeah I'm looking across all the buildings
I can see all
All the world
All the world tonight
Cause I can see everything
And I can see everything
Yeah, I know I got everything
And I can see everything
And I can see everything

And I can see everything
And I can see everything
Yeah, I know I got everything
Yeah yeah yeah yeah
