Bad Things (Alex Young Remix)

Cults

bad things happen to the people you love and you find yourself paying the diamond above but honestly i've never had much sympathy cuz those bad things always saw them coming for me I'm gonna run, run away, run run away, run away run away and never come back Run run away, run run away, run away show em which color is blackbad things happen to the people you love
and you find yourself paying the diamond above
cuz those bad things always saw them coming for me It would take some time to just to see me shine for the whole world to see me here with all of my light but honestly i've given up on all the fights so that then one day I'll have you all wrapped in my lightI'm gonna run, run away, run run away, run away run away and never come back Run run away, run run away, run away show em which color is black I'm gonna run, run away, run run away, run away run away
and never come back
and you find yourself paying the diamond above
cuz those bad things always saw them coming for me
cuz those bad things always saw them coming for me
