Broken

Whitehorse

One day you gonna miss me
One day you gonna wake up cold
Then you'll wish that you could kiss me
When you're old and you're alone
So cry if you want to
Ya, you can come undone
But you've gotta have a heart
To have a broken oneYou can take your accusations
You can have all your records back
You take "Let It Bleed"
I want "Blood On The Tracks"
'Cause when the music is over
You'll sing the same old tune
If I hear it again baby, it'll be too soonOne day you gonna miss me
One day you gonna wake up cold
Then you'll wish that you could kiss me
When you're old and you're alone
So cry if you want to
Ya, you can come undone
But you've gotta have a heart
To have a broken oneOh my love, it must be so tight in your skin
'Cause there's no room to breathe this fantasy you're livin' in
I need a new perspective
Ya, that's what I said
I need a man
I need a girl like you, like a hole in my head
'Cause we all love a joyride
But it's a long way home
So if I'm leavin' you, you're leavin' me alone
