

Donner Party (All Night)

Alkaline Trio

So it began this way, I can't recall how it got started
So it began this way, I don't recall a thing
And all in all I guess it's for the better
If you don't remember anything, sit and sing
There was a time when everything we did seemed second nature
There was a time when everything we did seemed free
And all in all I guess it's for the better
If you don't remember anything, sit and sing
And I wanted you to know it was you
That we were thinking of as we quietly died in the snow
A place we'll never leave, a place we never wanna call home
A place we'll call the final resting place in pieces
So it began this way, I don't recall how we got started
So we end this way, no trace of us in spring
And all in all I guess it's for the better
If you just can't feel a fucking thing fall asleep
And I wanted you to know it was you
That we were thinking of as we quietly died in the snow
A place we'll never leave, a place we never wanna call home
A place we'll call the final resting place in pieces
And I wanted you to know it was you
That we were thinking of as we quietly died in the snow
A place we'll never leave, a place we never wanna call home
A place we'll call the final resting place in pieces

Songwriters

Daniel Michael Andriano;Derek R Grant;Matthew Thomas Skiba
Published by
HELL TOUPEE

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>