Sleepy Head

Open your eyes my little sleepy head it's 3 am - you're missing everything The stars are raining down, get out of bed We'll never have this chance again Open your eyes now sleepy head and hold this memory for inside your head inside your head Angels have filled the sky with fiery tails they flash like cameras in the night and fall into the grass to live again as they turn into fire flies Open your eyes get out of bed and take this memory for inside your head inside your head
It's freezing cold, why should we care?
Climb on the roof and hold my hand Let's live another hundred years and meet here when the stars rain down again rain down again Open your eyes my sleepy head and take this memory
Open your eyes get out of bed and hold this memory inside your head inside your head
inside you
