Fallen Idol

The Tears

Eyes that stare through television
Intermission in his mind
Where there once was such ambition
Blared like a bass line when the bass line's rightShame he's just this fallen idol
Shattered like some broken glass
Shame he's just this fallen idol
Bits of paper for his pastYears are scattered like the rain drops
Sits at the window through the empty day
Competitions in the paper
Stares in the sky
When the sky turns greyShame he's just this fallen idol
Shattered like some broken glass
