

Back to You

Twin Forks

I was young so I forgot
Which was my place and which was not
Thought I had a good shot
I took it right in my eye Look ahead, look behind
Take another, I don't mind
I, oh, I, oh Follow the signs right back to you
Back to you, back to you
I know they wind right back to you
Back to you So, put a posey in your hair
Pretend you couldn't give a care
Whistle past the graveyard
Even the dead deserve a song Let the moon do what she does
She don't need to make a fuss
She don't know she shines for us
Something tells me that she does Follow the signs right back to you
Back to you, back to you
I know they wind right back to you
Back to you, back to you
Time after time, I follow signs
I know they wind right back to you Love, lower your eyes
Leave me a sign Follow the signs right back to you
Back to you, back to you
I know they wind right back to you
Back to you, back to you
I trust the signs so I may find my way to you
Back to you, back to you
Follow the signs right back to you
