

I Got a Gal I Love (In North and South Dakota)

Frank Sinatra

I could have married Imogene or Josephine or Mame
And I could have married Sally Lou or let's see, what's her name?
But I thought and thought and thought
And thought and now my heart's at rest
'Cause I have picked out two of them and you can have the rest I got a gal I love in North and South Dakota
There ain't no difference in my love, not one iota
I guess that two gals puts me one above the quota
Still I got a gal in North and South Dakota
Ooh, ooh, wish I knew which of my two loves is true I got a gal I love in North and South Dakota
There ain't no difference in my love, not one iota
Just wait till they hear about the gal in Minnesota
It's a situation partner that vexes
Guess I go back to the gal I love in Texas I guess I've even lost that gal in Minnesota
It's a situation partner that vexes
If I had the nerve I could go back to Texas
Ooh, ooh, guess I'll go back to the gal I love in Texas
Hey, Pedro, [Incomprehensible]

Songwriters

Jule Styne; Sammy Cahn Published by

SONY/ATV HARMONY Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>