

The Worst Person

New Found Glory

Had everybody feeling bad for you
The last two years all the pain you went through
 You were only giving half the truth
 Loving attention, playing a victim
 The whole time you were abusing
The ones you loved, you hid your life away
 You didn't want them to know
You were hooking up with girls in Boston
You might be the worst person I've ever met
 I've ever known
 You keep doing all that shit that you regret
 End up alone
 You'd look in my eyes
 Tell a lie and not even flinch
 You would only stand close to me
 To steal a dollar from my back pocket
 Manipulate situations
 And weak minds
 To feed all your desires
 You would ruin relationships
Then post a smile and hope someone likes it
 Oh
 You know
Better
You might be the worst person I've ever met
 I've ever known
 You keep doing all that shit that you regret
End up alone
You might be the worst person I've ever met
 I've ever known
 You keep doing all that shit that you regret
 End up alone
 Will you ever get your head straight
 Making excuses, better point the finger back at you
By now, you know there's no use in trying to fool me
 'cause I know the full story
 So you seek out the meek
 Kissing your feet
 Spineless believers
 Threw me down in the dirt
 Dust off my shirt
 I'm gonna air it out
I'm gonna air it out for you
You might be the worst person I've ever met
 I've ever known
 You keep doing all that shit that you regret

End up aloneOh
You know
BetterYou might be the worst person I've ever met
I've ever known
You keep doing all that shit that you regret
End up aloneYou might be the worst person I've ever met
I've ever known
You keep doing all that shit that you regret
End up aloneYou might be the worst person I've ever met
I've ever known
You keep doing all that shit that you regret
End up aloneYou might be the worst person I've ever met
I've ever known
You keep doing all that shit that you regret
End up alone
