Flowers

Willow Smith

You wished upon a star
Saw your mother snap back and now you're where you started
My heart aches when I see your face
That's the story of this life but my soul saw it twice
Never had a problem but my soul seems to fight through the outer fist of lifeBut it's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
We were walking on clouds but the greys came down
And they wiped us all outBut it's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
We were walking on clouds but the greys came down
And they wiped us all out
But it's the flowerI wanna be an atlantean
Let's get the 10, let's get the 10 by 4
And we'll knock down the door, knock down the door
We'll see what they've been hiding, let me tell you bout the story of Poseidon
He was a young boy, who was enlightened
Kinda like Jaden
Kinda like the way we look in the sky
And we see the chem trails
And we nearly all cried
And nearly just die
We merely just try to help 'em
The government it tryna, tryna sell them, not help them
But the indigos are here and we remember
Remembered how we all shift the weather
Because love is the air we breathe
The people we see, the realization that we're all in unity
So you and me and I and IWe're the flower
We're the flower
We're the flower
We're the flower
We're the flower
We were walking on clouds but the greys came down

And they wiped us all outBut it's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
It's the flower
We were walking on clouds but the greys came down
And they wiped us all out
But it's the flower

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/