Noisy Night

Portastatic

When last july like a soaking sheet came down,
Like a broken hose soaking the ground, you were not around Some of us held true to form, and in the summer
Yeah in the dog days, the attic gets warm
So we stayed in, just to see the sweat on someone else's skin
Now it's noisy noisy night, and you can't hear the kissing for the fights Ice in your gin, crickets on ten, underneath the yellow bug light
Now it's noisy noisy night, and you can't hear the kissing for the fights Ice down your chin, crickets on ten, underneath the yellow bug light
When next april come around
And you feel the stiffness go out of this town, what will change
Who will engage these summer currents 'cause you know I'm down Or will we drift out in the yard, linger to long against the hood of your Car and take that as enough to get us through, well it's tough
Now it's noisy noisy night, and you can't hear the kissing for the fights Ice in your gin, crickets on ten, underneath the yellow bug light
Now it's noisy noisy night
And this whole town's got it's mouth open wide
Ice down your chin, and who let these jokes in Baby let's just go for a ride, it's a noisy night
