

Same Old Same Old

Chumbawamba

you would never turn around your turning everything upside down and tryin' to put the blame on me and act like you did nothing wrong to me but now that I'm a superstar you always want to hang around and this the end why can't you see I'm putting an end to my misery I'm putting an end to my misery and this the end why can't you see the way you act now seems like we've been friends forever you say it's been a long time since we have seen each other but lookin' into those lying eyes I know better you're feeling kind of beat and you wanna' talk to a friend but here's the truth here's truth about the matter we were never friends I'm putting an end to my misery I'm putting an end to my misery and this the end why can't you see you say it's been a long time since we have seen each other and this the end why can't you see the way you act now seems like we've been friends forever but lookin' into those lying eyes I know better you're feeling kind of beat and you wanna' talk to a friend but we were never friends I'm putting an end to my misery I'm putting an end to my misery and this the end why can't you see and this the end why can't you see cant you see

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>