

Heart (It's a Demo)

Neneh Cherry

Out of control, totally out of control
Mmm, stick it where it hurts
Girl, I'll be peeling you off the ceiling
That's right, hee hee

Ladies and gentlemen, Neneh Cherry
Well you laughed at me right in my face
At the wrong time and in the wrong place
You turned around and said, "I'm all shook up"
Said to me, "I'm your sweet buttercup"
You're lying, you're lying, begging him to stay and crying
You're lying, you're lying, you're never satisfied
Heart, heart you can't break my heart
Hard, hard you think you're so hard
If you meant what you, did it wouldn't been half as bad
But you did it in spite and that just isn't right
You took my man, the only one I ever had
You took my man, I didn't treat you bad
Anyway, it's gonna get you anyway
Any day, it's gonna get you
Heart, heart you can't break my heart
Hard, hard you think you're so hard
If you meant what you did, it wouldn't been half as bad
But you did it in spite and that just isn't right
You took my man and didn't mean it
But you did it to hurt my feelings
What I should do is slap you in your face
You left me here with a pain below my waste
You lose a guy, you move into the larder
You got no style, why don't you try a little harder
Chocolates, bananas, dough nuts and salami
Ain't gonna fit 'coz you're full of boloni
Heart, heart you can't break my heart
Hard, hard you think you're so hard
If you meant what you did it wouldn't been half as bad
But you did it in spite and that just isn't right
Only back alley rats take other peoples cats
And then strike back, that isn't where I'm at
Anyway, it's gonna get you anyway
Anyway, I'm gonna get you, get you
Heart, heart you can't break my heart
Hard, hard you think you're so hard
If you meant what you did it wouldn't been half as bad
But you did it in spite and that just isn't right, no, no
I thought you were my friend
God, you're so digital girl
You're like one of those 'Cabbage Patch' creatures
You're burning the candle at both ends
You're gonna feel the heat
If everything you do comes back to you
By now you'd be dead meat
You took my man and took his body

Strapped him to your bed just to have his baby
Everybody knows you're a phony
You just want his alimony
Heart, heart you can't break my heart
Hard, hard you think you're so hard
If you meant what you did it wouldn't been half as bad
But you did it in spite and that just isn't right
Heart, heart you can't break my heart
Hard, hard you think you're so hard
If you meant what you did it wouldn't been half as bad
But you did it in spite and that just isn't right, no, no
