Weighted

frnkiero and the cellabration

If we wait,
It may be too late.
We'll make everybody cry,
We wouldn't even have to try.If we stay,
We may overstay
Our allotted time
And it just wouldn't feel right.But I only speak the truth,
And I'll always bleed for you.So let's laugh, let's laugh,
Let's learn to laugh at ourselves again.
And let's love, let's love,
Let's hate what our love makes us do.If I try,
I may have to try
My entire life
And that just doesn't sit right.But if I fall
Flat on my face,
Then may my bones break
Under my own weight.But I only want the truth,
And that's one thing you can't do.So let's laugh, let's laugh,
Let's learn to laugh at ourselves again.
And let's love, let's love,
Let's hate what our love makes us do.Sometimes though the world goes round,
Somethings just don't change.
Sometimes it leaves me feeling old.Sometimes though the world goes round,
Somethings just don't change.
Sometimes it leaves me feeling old.If we wait,
It may be too late.
We'll make everybody cry,
We wouldn't even have to try.I understand
Why you couldn't stand
Another day
Standing in your own way.So let's laugh, let's laugh,
Let's learn to laugh at ourselves again.
And let's love, let's love,
Let's hate what our love makes us do.So let's laugh, let's laugh,
Let's learn to laugh at ourselves again.
And let's love, let's love,
Let's hate what our love makes us do.Let's hate what our love makes us do.Let's love, I love what my hate makes me do.
