

Spare Me

Side Walk Slam

Things seem to work out when you think they never will
And often things burn down that you tried to build so high
Friendships come and go and most relationships will die
I know it's hard to move on but that's love and that's life You can't change me, I won't believe your ugly lies
You won't spare me, I've got better things to do Things seem to work out when you think they never will
And often things burn down that you tried to build so high
Friendships come and go and most relationships will die
I know it's hard to move on but that's love and that's life You can't change me, I won't believe your ugly lies
You won't spare me, I've got better things to do
