You, you're not asking questions that I don't have answers for

You're not asking questions that I don't have answers for

You're hard to fool but not too hard to do

You played it cool but cool can get you screwed And I'm way too fucked up on that

To allow myself a way to get back You, you're not taking actions for responsibilities

You're not taking action for responsibility

And these are only words and, yeah, they are yours

You do that of course but we have tricky words And I'm way too fucked up on that

To allow myself a way to get back

To get back, to get back, to get back, to get back You, you were throwing caution to what you're pissing in

You were throwing caution to what you're pissing in

Pissing in the wind and that's the shape I'm in I took that on the chin, the circle's closing in

And you don't have to grin or give my world a spin

And I don't wanna win, I just want to begin And I'm way too fucked up on that

To allow myself a way to get back

To get back, to get back, to get back, to get back

To get back, to get back, to get back, to get back
