Names

MidÃ©

Names, i call you ... Too many names
And not just when we,re playing games
I know you think I'm always playing games
Here we go
Now we stop on each others toes
And the doors that we open closed
And i Guess that it goes the show
Darling theres something i have to know

Why do i call you honney, time and time again
Why do i call you sunshine, when I'm, standing in the rain
Why do i call you darling darling, its nothing like your name
You should take up my

Hands, yes we held each others hands
And we did our. Silly dance
We became each others plans
Those plans, Now i finally understand
... the song of a broken man
That was writen in the sand
Darling theres something i have to know

Why do i call you honney, time and time again
Why do i call you sunshine, when I'm, standing in the rain
Why do i call you darling darling, its nothing like your name
You should take up my

Why do i call you honney, time and time again
Why do i call you sunshine, when I'm, standing in the rain
Why do i call you darling darling, its nothing like your name
You should take up my

The names i call you
When i call you
I should call you
You know i want you

The names i call you
When i call you
You know I should call you

You know i want you

Maybe i call you honney, time and time again
Maybe i call you sunshine, cause you take away the rain
Maybe i call you honney, time and time again
Maybe i call you sunshine, cause you take away the rain
Maybe i call you darling darling, that was nothing like your name
You should take up my last name
You should take up my last name.
