

Warriors of Faith

Hammerfall

They search the desert plains
In the land of no return
To seek out the danger time to burn They are the righteous ones
They have come to claim this land
Like warriors under command They fight for gold and glory
Proclaim the dead man's land
Into the dungeons they must go
To find the answers left untold Under the burning sun
In danger eye to eye
They all know that someone must die Into the well they're fallin past immortality
Led by temptation and devotion
Render deathless by the touch of the sword Onwards victory let us hear your battle cry
The enemies will renounce or die
Hail the warriors of faith Together they march through the fire
Forever they lost in this world Into the well they're fallin' past immortality
Led by temptation and devotion
Render deathless by the touch of the sword Onwards victory let us hear your battle cry
The enemies will renounce or die
Eternally they will fall
Under the sign of victory fighting all for one
Hail the the warriors of faith
