

Stella

The Postelles

If the sun forgets to shine can you just deal with candlelight for two Oh, I hope that will do
So if your mockingbird don't sing
Can you just love it for its wings? Please do Oh Stella, what could I do? So when you ask me on the phone
Can I just get myself back home?
I'll say, "Stella, I lost my way" So if you need to lay your head
Then I can make room right beside my bed
Do you mind the floor instead?
So as your mockingbird takes flight
The sun forgets to shine its light on you
Oh Stella, what could I do? And if you need me,
You know I'll run, run run.
(Stella, you're on your own, Stella you're on your own)
Oh you know I'm leaving baby,
You know I'm gone, gone gone
(Stella, you're on your own, Stella you're on your own)
And in the evening,
you're gonna think I'm home
But no, you're alone So when you ask me on the phone
Can I just get myself back home?
I'll say, "Stella, I lost my way" Stella, you're on your own (2x)
