Little Victories

Blue Sky Riders

Friday night alone
And calling everyone you know
You're reaching for the cigarattes
You gave up long ago
You wanna go and get drunk somewhere
Turn it off and just not care
For a little whileYou're runnin' over what went wrong
For a hundredth time today
You wonder if another thought
Will ever take its place
You're feeling like you're Trapped inside
Your own bad dream
One that's never gonna end
But here's the funny thingMy friend
You feel like you're gonna die
But you don't
You think that the world
Will stop
But it won't
And it's the darnest thing I know
The sun comes up
It's another day
And your heart still beats
And you seeHey
I'm still breathing
Take it from me
These little victories
Are all a heart needs
Photographs you tore and have it scattered on the floor
Letters where he swore
His love mean nothing anymore
You can't imagine how to get from here to thereBut one day you'll know where to start
That's the power of the heart
You feel like you're gonna die
But you don't
You think that the world would stop
But it won't

And it's the darnest thing I know
The sun comes up
It's another day
And your heart still beats
And you seeHey
I'm still breathing
Take it from me
Are all a heart needs
The dog still barks
And your shower's hot
And you burned your hand on the coffee pot
So like it or notGotta say
I'm still breathing
Take it from me
Are all a heart needs!
