New Sun

Long Beach Dub All Stars

Always expect to lose
We can always expect to lose
We can always expect to lose
Radio, radio contactRadio transmission every time that
I let our fair moon
Lay her body between us, I need her
Now that you're breaking upWe can always expect to lose
Radio, radio contact, radio transmission
Lay her body between us, I need her
Now that you're breaking upSoon she'll become my new sun
Soon she'll becomeSoon she'll become my new sun
Soon she'll become my new sun
[Incomprehensible]And fast receiving but slow responding
To your signals reading, Son come home
But I still believe it, my God, I still need it
I'm just tired of walking upright
When I don't mean right, I just want to look rightWe can always expect to lose
Radio, radio contact, radio transmission
We can always expect to lose
Radio, radio contact, radio transmissionSoon she'll become my new sun
Soon she'll becomeSoon she'll become dim reflected love to light my way
After I trade loving you, for loving to obey'Cause even with my feet on the path
Our quiet hearts lost contact
So now I'm wandering off
Just to hear you call me, calling me backAlways expect to lose
Always, always
We can always expect to lose
Always expect to lose
Always, always
