Quit Breaking Up With Me

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

You say it's over, with a middle finger
But then you're calling before I turn off my ringer
And I answer 'cause I love to hear you're sorry for the 400th timeWell,
You try to leave me
But you can't do it
'Cause I'm the only one who puts up with your (censorship)
I know that secretly you love making out with me right after we fightWell,
We're always fixing something that was never broken
We're on and off again like sobriety
Get back together every time you're done throwing a fit
So when you gonna quit
Breaking up with meWell,
You think by now
We'd finally get along
But we only feel right when everything is going wrong
And we're back in the habit of cussing each other up and downWell,
I hate your daddy, you hate my momma
But one thing we don't seem to hate is all the drama
But we never can remember what the hell we were yelling aboutWell,
We're always fixing something that was never broken
We're on and off again like sobriety
Get back together every time you're done throwing a fit
So when you gonna quit
Breaking up with meI don't know where you think you're going
Because you're stuck with me forever and you know it
(Forever, forever, forever, forever)
We're always fixing something that was never broken
We're on and off again like sobriety
Get back together every time you're done throwing a fit
So when you gonna quit
And breaking up with me
Yeah

And when you're gonna quit
Breaking up with me
But you know itÂ (forever, forever, forever, forever, forever, forever, forever)
