

I Have to Keep You Down

Christian Lee Hutson

I could have told you they loved you
From the way they stood still
But I hope you didn't notice
And that you never will

Cos it isn't hard to imagine
That you won't need me someday
Cos I know something that you don't
You never did anyway

And our loves already begun to brown
And unless I can convince you
No one can want you now
You gonna see how easy it is to fool around
So I have to keep you down

At some point you decided you were burning through silver steam
Locked up whatever you had left
And trusted me with the keys
Cos you thought I figured it all out
But that's completely insane
Maybe you should have considered
No one remembers my name

And our loves already begun to brown
And unless I can convince you
No one can want you now
You gonna see how easy it is to fool around
So I have to keep you down

Your oversights gonna cost you
Maybe eventually see I've been bidding Against you, unintentionally

And our loves already begun to brown
And unless I can convince you
No one can want you now
You gonna see how easy it is to fool around
So I have to keep you down

I have to keep you down
