

Restore Me

Anthony Evans

On the outside, You think I'm alright
There's a smile on my face, everything's okay
But on the inside there's a different story
I've stumbled down this road and I've got so far to go I'm a broken man
On my knees again
Longing for a touch from You
I need your hand to Restore me, I need Your mercy
Take me to the place I used to be
Use all the pain and the hurt
To do a greater work and restore me I wore my mask, running away from my past
Hiding all my scars, thinking I'd gone too far
But He knew my pain and He loved me just the same
He promised, I'd be free if I fell on my knees and cried Restore me, I need Your mercy
Oh, take me to the place I used to be
Use all the pain and the hurt
To do a greater work and restore me Restore unto me the joy of my salvation
So I'll sing again, the song You wrote for me
Give me a clean heart, I want a brand new start
Like the moment when I first believed Restore me, I need Your mercy
Oh, take me to the place I used to be
Use all the pain and the hurt
To do a greater work and restore me Please Jesus, oh yeah
Give me another chance
I want to be a new man
Please restore me, yeah yeah, yeah

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>