Fooled Myself

Angus And Julia Stone

Tragic day, In my mind
Fast car, broken down
Said I think I'm right
But I'm moving slow
His hand they shake, as I go home

Seems like everything, Is gone
Seems I fooled myself, once again

And I drink it all to the rising sun
To say I fooled, myself, once again

I said I fooled myself, once again

I"m gonna close these eyes, for days
She's hour glass slowly fine
See I built these walls but I'll give them down
What's left of me, is on the ground

It seems like everything has gone
seems I fooled myself once again
I'll drink it all to the rising sun
To say i fooled myself once again
Said I fooled myself, once again
Said I fooled myself, once again
Said I fooled myself, once again
Said I fooled myself, once again.
