White Dress

Liechtenstein

So do you remember? With your white dress on It was the end of December Count the days till dawn I never knew That I could love someone The way that I love you I never knew That I could love someone The way that I love you I never knew That I could love someone The way that I love you I never knew I never knew She's coming on Friday And then the close spark Cause its just minutes & highways Till the one I love The one I love Till oh... I never knew That I could love someone The way that I love you I never knew

The way that I love you
I never knew
That I could love someone
The way that I love you
I never knew
I never knew
I never knew
That I could love someone
The way that I love you
I never knew
That I could love someone
The way that I love you

That I could love someone

I never knew That I could love someone The way that I love you I never knew I never knew, no I never knew, no I never knew That I could love That I could love That I could love someone That you could love That you could love someone like me Oh, that I could love That I could love That I could love someone like That you could love someone like me
