

Destroyer

Michael Gira

He spent his life a silent sentinel for all to fear
He walks, he talks, he thinks, he feels but no dare go near
 He takes in all he sees, nothing escapes his gaze
And when he strikes, he strikes for right, a glorious sight
 Destroyer, destroyer
 Destroyer, he's in town
He came to be from a grand mistake, a mystical charade
 Created to decide the good and bring repercussive aid
As awareness filled his fame and he examined those who leered
 And he cleaved the air with his fiery stare rend all those there
 Destroyer, destroyer
 Destroyer, he's in town
A day will come you'll be drawn into the center of your town
 And come upon a mass of steel that cracks the very ground
 Prepare to meet your judge, don't think to run away
 Just pray your face holds no disgrace for the deadly ace
 Destroyer, destroyer
 Destroyer, he's in
 Destroyer, destroyer
 Destroyer, he's in town
 Oh, he's in town
 You'd better stay out of his fucking way
 He's gonna kick your ass
 Yeah, destroyer
